PARIS, June 7.

LETTERS from Nancy bring Advice, that in the late Tumult there, on Account of the Dearth of Provisions, Two Houses belonging to the Intendant were demolished, the Populace having found 30,000 Sacks of Corn secreted therein. The Intendant made his Escape, and the People were so busy in dividing it, that they did not pursue him.

HAMBURGH, June 7. They write from the Borders of the Danube, that Advice has been received there from Constantinople, that a Persian Army composed of 30,000 Men, was in march to render themselves Masters of the City of Bagdad.

RATISBON, June 8. We this Moment learn, that the Imperial Troops are already on their March for Transilvania, where the Emperor is to assemble an Army of 160,000 Men, which will extend to the Frontiers of Turkey, in order to compel the belligerent Powers to accept of the Conditions of Peace.

HAGUE, June 13. Letters from Paris of good Authority, inform us, that the King nominated, on the 6th Instant, the Duke d'Aiguillon Minister of foreign Affairs.

LOWER ELBE, June 14. It is said, that a Body of 40,000 Prussians have received Orders to march through Poland, in order to join the Russian Army.

Some Letters received here advise, that Prince Repnin, who is actually at the Head of the Body of Troops commanded by the late General Olitz, had taken Widdin; but this News merits Confirmation.

LONDON, June 8.

The Queen of Hungary is going to borrow of her Subjects in the Low Countries Two Millions Five Hundred Thousand Florins.

One of the Footpads, who robbed the Reverend Mr. Horne, turned about to that Patriot, as he was going off, and clinking the Guineas in the Hollow of his Hand, said, "This is the first publick Money that I ever handled."

St. James's, June 12. This Day the Right Honourable the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of London, in Common Council assembled, waited upon his Majesty; and being introduced to his Majesty by the Right Hon. the Earl of Hertford, Lord Chamberlain of his Majesty's Household, Sir James Hodges, Knight, Town-Clerk, made their Compliments in the following Address.

To the KING's most excellent MAJESTY.

The humble Address of the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled.

Most gracious Sovereign,

"We your Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the City of London, in Common Council assembled, embrace this joyful Occasion of approaching your Majesty with our sincere Congratulations on the safe Delivery of the Queen, and the auspicious Birth of another Prince.

"Your Majesty's ever loyal and faithful Citizens of London, exceeded by none of your Subjects in honest and anxious Zeal for your Majesty's Happiness and the Glory and Prosperity of your Reign, rejoice in all Events which augment your Majesty's domestick Felicity; firmly trusting that every Increase of the august House of Brunswick will prove an additional Security to our Religion, and the great Charter of Liberty, which, in Consequence of the glorious and necessary Revolution, that illustrious House was chosen to defend."

Signed by Order of the Court, James Hodges.

To which Address his MAJESTY was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer.

"I thank you for this dutiful Address, and for your Congratulations on the safe Delivery of the Queen, and the Birth of another Prince.

"It gives me great Satisfaction to find that you consider the Increase of my Family, as an additional Security to our Religion, and to that Liberty which I look upon with Pleasure as the Basis of my Government, and which I shall always think my Honour and Interest concerned to defend."

They were all graciously received, and had the Honour to kiss his Majesty's Hand.

At the Court of St. James's, the 11th Day of June, 1771, Present,

The KING's most excellent MAJESTY in Council.

His Majesty having been pleased to deliver the Custody of the Privy Seal to his Grace Augustus Henry Duke of Grafton, the Oath of Keeper of the Privy Seal was this Day administered to him, and his Grace took his Place at the Board accordingly.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, dated May 21.

"The Ministers of the War and marine Departments have just presented to the Council their respective Projects for augmenting the Pay of the Officers, Soldiers, and Seamen, which have received the Approbation of the Council, inasmuch as the whole tends to the Encouragement of the Military in every Respect; but as the Question is, how to fix a Fund to supply this Augmentation, the Business was postponed till further Orders, all the Funds being already anticipated.

The next Day, the Duke de Lavrillier laid before the Council several Letters from the Intendants of the different Provinces, informing the Court, that in all the Towns, Communities and Parishes, there had been Meetings of the Inhabitants, to which their Magistrates had not been invited, and that they had agreed and resolved, that as all the King's Edicts and Declarations for collecting the Land-Tax, the Tax for the Maintenance of the Gendarmes, the Poll-Tax, the Twentieth Penny, &c. had been registred by the Parliament, now that his Majesty had abolished that Body, the Receipt of these Taxes ought to cease, as the Cause that gave Force and Credit had ceased; in consequence, the Receivers of these Taxes can no longer levy them, and had Recourse to the Intendants for a Supply of Porteurs de Contraintes [Bearers of an Order, or general Warrants, to seize and imprison any Person], Soldiers, Dragoons, &c. &c. which these Intendants refused to grant without express Orders from the Court, which is greatly embarrassed at this Increase of Troubles. This is the most fatal and decisive Blow that could be struck to open the King's Eyes, and let him see the wicked Proceedings of the Chancellor; for if the People persist in refusing to pay, the King's Troops will not be sufficient to quarter One Soldier only on each refractory Individual, to distrain, or in Garrison. Moreover, where must the Money come for Payment, if every Landholder, and every private Person, refuses to pay?

This is our present Situation, and Nobody will venture to accept of the Premiership, nor of the Place of Comptroller-General, which the Abbe de Terray still keeps against his Will."

June 13. The latest Accounts from Hamburgh assure us, that the Empire of Russia is far from being bettered by the late Successes, as many Parts are left totally neglected; and in many extended Districts only old Men, Women, and Children, are to be seen.

Yesterday Morning was tried before Lord Mansfield and a Special Jury, in the Court of King's-Bench, a Cause, wherein Lord March was Plaintiff, and Mr. Pigot Defendant. The Action was brought to recover the Sum of 500 Guineas, for a Wager which Lord March had laid with Mr. Pigot. The Wager was, that if Sir William Codrington died first, Lord March was to pay Mr. Pigot 1600 Guineas; and, if old Mr. Pigot died first, Mr. Pigot was to pay Lord March 500 Guineas. Mr. Pigot happened to die suddenly with the Gout in his Head on the Morning previous to the laying of the Wager: Mr. Pigot thought that from this Circumstance it was no Bet; Lord Ossory and several other Noblemen were examined. Lord March sat on the Bench with Lord Mansfield. The Defendant's Council said, that if you make a Bet for Two Horses to run, and One of them should die before it can be run, there can be no Bet; and he hoped that the Jury would find a Verdict for the Defendant. After a short Charge given by the Judge, the Jury brought in a Verdict for the Plaintiff of 500 Guineas, and full Costs of Suit.

Mr. Horne's last Letter has done Mr. Wilkes more Disservice than any of the other particular Charges the Parson has brought against him; such a Series of regular Facts amount to more than Prima Facie Evidence; and unless Mr. Wilkes can, in his Reply, demonstratively prove that the whole is a String of Falshoods, the Publick in general will look on him as the most ungrateful and unprincipled Profligate that ever dared insult Generosity and Friendship. If he should have the Adroitness to overturn all Mr. Horne's Assertions, he will raise himself in the general Esteem of Mankind, and Mr. Horne will deservedly be thought an Archfiend, able in Villainy, and practised in Deceit.

June 14. We are assured that the Presents made by the King of France to the King of Sweden, when he left Versailles, amounted in Value to 20,000l.

The King of Denmark has regulated all the Courts of Justice in his Dominions, on the same Plan as that adopted by his Prussian Majesty.

June 15. The whole Court will reside at Windsor during the Installation of the Knights of the Garter, which will be in July; Orders having been given by Lord Talbot, Steward of the Household, for fitting up Apartments for the Officers of State.

It is said that Lord Bute, who is gone down to his Seat in Bedfordshire, is again relapsed, and that he intends soon to visit the Continent, finding that the English Air does not agree with his Constitution.

Extract of a Letter to the Printer from Paris, dated June 10.

"The Publick expected to be at length relieved from Oppression, by the Mediation of the Duke de Penthievre, at the Two Assemblies held at St. Hubert and Rembouillet, but M. de Manpeou has made these Interviews the Subject of his Triumph. The King, fatigued with wielding the Rod of Iron, with which he has ruled these Ten Months past, has delivered into the Hands of the Duke d'Aiguillon, all the Power which the Duke de Choiseul was invested with. Behold! he is now Prime Minister, at the very Time when it was thought he was fallen from all Pretensions. It is to be feared that this Event will be productive of as much Bloodshed as the St. Bartholomew Massacre. The People are all in an Uproar at this News. The Courier is setting out; I have no Spirits to write any more."

Extract of a Letter from Paris.

"We are at present in such Confusion at this Capital, and indeed all over the Kingdom, that the Ministers of State are taking every Precaution to prevent a Civil War: Gentlemen and Ecclesiastics are sent to the Bastile by Dozens; the new Parliament dare not transact any Business for fear of being arraigned by the old Parliament; Princes of the Blood, and the greatest Part of the Nobility, as an unlawful Assembly; several of them having been already threatened to be hanged up at their own Doors. The Country People from different Provinces are so numerous in this City, that the Judge of Police endeavoured to clear it of them, but to no Purpose, because they find no Bread nor Money in the Country; in short, if proper Measures are not speedily adopted, this Country will be one of the most miserable in the World. Happy then that Nation, whose Liberties are preserved sacred and inviolable! There can be nothing wanting in it to make every Thing lovely, and to flourish in it; their Trade must be extensive; their Manufactures numerous; the People easy, contented, rich, brave; the Governors happy, in governing reasonable Creatures in a reasonable Manner, and commanding what Principle teaches to be fit and right. England is the Nation where these Effects are best understood, and most likely to be expected, and learn to commiserate and pity almost all the World besides."

Extract of a private Letter from the Hague, dated June 7.

"Our Politicians were never more puzzled than they are at present, to form a proper Judgment of the Turn Affairs will take between Russia and the Porte; for though a Treaty of Pacification has for some Weeks been talked of as an Event that would soon take Place, the Czarina's Demands are considered by the Porte as so very unreasonable, that it is positively assured the Grand Signor has declared, that he will not only rather risque another Campaign than submit to them, but if the Russians were absolutely possessed of Constantinople, he would still reject them. It is generally believed, that though the Court of Versailles will not visibly appear an Auxiliary to the Porte, she has had sufficient Influence upon the Court of Vienna to engage the Emperor to make the most favourable Dispositions in Favour of the Grand Signor, and that under Pretence of preventing Incursions into his Territories, he will absolutely second the Operations of the Turks and the Russians. It is, indeed, said, that a Treaty has been for some Time upon the Carpet between the Courts of Vienna and Berlin, whereby it is stipulated, that an Army of Observation is immediately to be raised for the Security of their respective Territories, but which, it is generally believed by our deepest Politicians, is indeed designed to stop the Czarina of those Acquisitions she has already made, or may hereafter make, upon the Turk. We wait with Impatience for the next Post from Petersburgh, which will throw great Light upon the present critical State of Affairs."

A Correspondent says, Lord Bute finding all his Emissaries were not sufficient to crush Mr. Wilkes, whom he looks upon as his chief Obstacle to the carrying his Scheme of arbitrary Power and abject Slavery of this once free Country fully into Execution, is come over on Purpose with a determined Resolution to stop the further Progress of Mr. Wilkes's Popularity, by preventing him from being elected one of the Sheriffs of the City of London and County of Middlesex, tho' it should cost 30,000l. and has set all his Hirelings, or Blood-Hounds, to work to hunt him down.

Policies are already opened upon the Royal Exchange upon the Success of Mr. Wilkes's Election: 60l. are taken to return 100l. if he should not be chosen.

June 18. To-morrow a Chapter of the most Noble Order of the Blue Garter will be held at St. James's; when the vacant Ribbon, by the Death of the Earl of Halifax, will be given to the Bishop of Osnaburgh.

June 22. By the Survey already made, of some of the Dock-Yards and Shipping, it appears, there are 60 Ships of the Line fit for immediate Service.

Sir William Meredith's Brother is to be Canon Residentary of St. Paul's, in the Room of Dr. Egerton, now Bishop of Durham; and not to have the Living of Rofs, as hath been mentioned in the Papers.

Sir William Meredith, it is said, asked the Chancellorship of the Duchy of Lancaster for himself; but it was settled for Lord Hyde.

The French and Spanish Fleets, now in the Mediterranean, amount to above Sixteen capital Ships of the Line, exclusive of Frigates, Sloops, and Advice Boats; the latter of which are provided for fighting, the same as in Time of War.

A Peace is at last finally concluded between the Dey of Algiers and the King of Denmark, through the Mediation of the Sardinian Court.

YORK, June 11.

The ſeveral Companies of the Nine Traders in Newcaſtle, at a Meeting at their reſpective Halls on Monday Se'nnight, reſolved, (and entered the ſame in the Companies Books) "that no Donation, Preſent, or Money, ſhould, directly or indirectly be accepted for the Purpoſe of an Entertainment, or to any other Purpoſe, from any Candidate whatever, or any future Election for Members of Parliament, either previous or ſubſequent to the Election."

BASSETERRE, (St. Chriſtopher's) July 27.

Extract of a Letter from St. Euſtatius, July 20.

"This is to inform you that we have juſt received Advice, that Mr. Bloyden's Sloop is taken by the Spaniards with a full Load of Turtle, and that the Turtlers, to the Number of 32 Men, were carried to St. Domingo as Slaves, Mr. Thomas Low's Schooner was at the ſame Place, and was obliged to cut and run, fearing they ſhould ſhare the ſame Fate."

NEWPORT, Auguſt 19.

Laſt Tueſday a Ship, built on a new Conſtruction, for carrying Home to England a large Quantity of Timber, was launched at Warren, in this Colony.—She was partly loaded, before launching, with Timber framed in ſo as to be almoſt ſolid, and is to be filled up in the ſame Manner; by which Means, though ſhe will meaſure but about 160 Tons, Carpenter's Tonnage, 'tis ſaid ſhe will carry upwards of 1200 Tons of Timber. This Veſſel is built on the Plan contrived by Mr. Levi, who has a Patent for building this Sort of Veſſels, which are called Rafts.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 26.

Laſt Monday Evening was married at Shrewſbury, in Eaſt N. Jerſey, James De Lancey, Eſq; one of the Repreſentatives of this City in the General Aſſembly, and Son of the Hon. PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 22.

Extract of a Letter from Pittſburgh, Auguſt 6.

"Laſt Night a Runner arrived here from Fort Charters; he came from thence the 10th of June with a Party, in Three Battoes, Two Officers, and a recruiting Party of Soldiers, which he left Yeſterday Morning at Mingoe Town, about 40 Miles down the River. By him we learn, that the Kickapooes and Ouiottanons have ſtruck the Engliſh, and have killed a Man that lived on a Place down there, belonging to Mr. Morgan; alſo another white Man, and a Negro; that they purſued this Party, and intended to way-lay them at ſome Creek, but by their Diligence they paſſed that Creek Two Days before the Indians arrived."

Aug. 22. The Publick are cautioned to beware of Counterfeit Eighteen-penny Bills, of the Battering-Houſe Money, dated the Tenth of March, 1769; they may eaſily be detected, being cut on Copper-plate, and the Letters very irregular; the Paper is ſomething whiter and ſmoother than the genuine Bills; but the Whole is ſo badly executed, that we think they need no farther Deſcription.

ANNAPOLIS, September 5.

The General Aſſembly of this Province will certainly meet for the Diſpatch of publick Buſineſs, on Tueſday the Firſt Day of October next.

To the PRINTERS of the MARYLAND GAZETTE.

OBSARVING in your Gazette, as ſum miſchavus Perſon, and bitter Ennemy to my Proſperrity, has taken upon him to print my Name, with Intent to ruin my Carackter, this is tharefore to undaceave the Publick tharein, and to do Juſtice to my Reppetaſhion, which is thareby ſtab'd in its Vitals, as I truſt in my Advertiſement will appeare.

Firſt and foremoſt I do purteſt, uppon my Onner, as I am no Papiſt Tartar, but a true born Subject of George the 3d, and as I never was in any forrin Country beſides Ireland, G. Britain & America.

2dly, As thare never was, nor never will be, any ſuch cavil Spirrit in our Fammily, as I take a Gam to be, and as I hold Genius to be both unreligius and daſarving to be layd, and tore up Root and Branch forever, underſtanding in diverſe Companies, as it is a ſacreet & dedly Foe to the preſent Laws of this Land, and thare onnerable Purſeſſers, & will ſhartinly in the End bring about Innovaſhions and Havock among um, if it does not mate with propper Tratement.

3dly, As I am ſo far from purtending to foretel any Thing about the Inſpecſhion Law, that I am totally ignorant of the Matter; only that I noe a narrow Inſpecſhion is the worſt Thing that can happen to any Gentleman, that purſeſſes to entertain and bennefit the Publick, by impoſing uppon um; which I myſelf have ſumtimes expearunced, as well as many other Gentlemen, who exerciſe thare Purſeſhons for that Purpos.

4thly, As I have too ſound Principels to dabbel in Pollſticks, having red and heard in diverſe Prints and Books, that the grand Decepſhon and other Tricks of Pollytiſhons is not mear innocent Fun, but SLANDERING, NOISY, HYPPOCRITICAL and BLOOD THIRSTY, ſetting eaven the Son againſt his Father, and ſeching the Deſtruxon of hole innocent Families, to glut private Revenge, Mortificaſhon and Spleane, and whoever gets any Thing by um arns his Wages hard anuff.

5thly, As I am ſo far from ſelling Lozenges, or any other Purſarves that will ſtop Folks Mouths, that I do verrily beleave in my Hart, as thare is many People of both Sexes (for I return Thanks to Heaven I have been a married Man) who, nothing but the Breathe being fairly out of thare Boddy, ſkrew'd up, and put Six Foot under Ground, will ſilence; ſeeing that I myſelf was onc acquainted with Two Mountebanks, who, when they ware trickt out in thare pybald Coats, patch'd up of here and thare a Shred of fine CABBAGED Purple, and all the reſt ſuch coarſe filthy Rags as Scavengers & Kennel-ſcrapers pick up, had a clear Stage, and a right true Pair of Connought Pagpipes to keep thare Blood hot, tho' both as rank Dunghils as ever cry'd, would have Tongue-laſh'd & Beilingated the King of France, if he had STOOD IN THARE WAY, tho he had ſent Twelve of his Granadeers to point thare Muſkets at thare Breſts, and fire at the firſt Word that flew out of thare Mouths. Tis true indeed, I noe they wou'd, in an Inſtant, change from abuſing one Side of the Stage to abuſe tother, for a few Teeſters or ſo; but then whilſt they ſtood in the Publick, they cou'd no more help ſoming and running at the Mouth, than the Filth & Offels can help foming and running down Dublin Streets after a heavy Showr; when, as the Poet ſays,

Sweeping from Butchers Stalls Dung, Blood and Guts, Drown'd Puppies, ſtinking Sprats, all drench'd in Mud, Dead Cats and Turnip Tops cum tumbling down the Flood.

The firſt had his Skull fraſter'd by one of the Lads of the College, upon College Green, for his Slack-gaw, the ſecond was ſo much the ſame Thing over and over again, ſuch a dull ſiſhy fleſhy Sort of a Boddy, as he coud at laſt get no Boddy to laff at his Jokes but himſelf, and ſo the Mob left him; and if Luck haſn't cum to him with a dead Lift, I dont noe what's become of him, unleſs he took his Paſſage at WAPPING aboard the Rainbow Dogger, to go to Amſterdam to larn Umer among the Dutch; as I heard a Gentleman of my Acquaintance ſay, he ſaw him thare, at the Sign of the TWO VULTURES that WAS.

Now my Enemy even to Deſtruxion, who has printed this Advertiſement, calling me Uſga Bratzkoi Chernikow Tzexetlu, tho' he plainly intends that the Publick ſhall noe that I, H. S, am the Man he means, has thought this the ſhureſt Step to take away my onneſt Livelyhood; for running over with Miſchif and Lies, he makes me promiſe, that I will perform, what it is unpoſſible to perform, without the Black Art. So as when I cum to the Tryal, I may be hooted at for a Cheat and Impoſter, ſeeing as nothing diſgraces a Gentelman like Words without Deeds, let his Purſeſhon be what it will, Divine or Doctr, Solejer or Pollitiſhon, Slight of Hand Man or Lawer; for the Reaſon why? If a Parſon preaches up Peace and Charrity a Sunday, and falls to rangling, and wont pore a Drap of Small Beer upon Lazarus's burning Tongue a Munday; if a Doctr gives Pyſon to the Sick inſtead of Fyſick; if the Soljer looks fearce & bluſters, but turns Tale when the Drums beats and Cannons rores; if the Pollytiſhon ſets Things into a Blaze, only as he may SAVE GOODS OUT OF THE FIRE, as Filch does in the Oppery; if a Slight of Hand Man pretends to make white black and black white, and cant purform his Word like a Gentleman; if a Lawyer purtects you, only as he may ſuck your Blood and pick your Bones himſelf, People isn't content with calling for Vengence uppon the Purſeſſors, but often times wiſhes that the Purſeſhons themſelves was caſt into the Bottom of the Sea; as who ſhoud ſay, they ſom how or another, in the Room of making us more contented, happier and onneſter, makes us more diſcontenteder, miſerabler & roguiſher than the wild Beaſts that ranges up and down, jeſt as they will, feeding upon Acorns, Plunder & ſuch like.

But to ſhow the World that I do not wince without being gall'd, that my baſe ungentelmanlike Fears does not magnify my Misfortunes, I will ſend to yr Preſs by the next Week a few Letters out of 150 rote by very diſarning Ladies and Gentelmen, who have been taken in by this crofty malicius lying Advertiſement. Indeed I aſk'd the Advice of a Gentelman of my Acquaintance, if I had not better go to Law, to puniſh the Author for Forgery; but he purſwaded me from it, tho he woudnt ſpake out, but only ſed, haff a Loaf was better than no Bred; as to be ſhure, to looſe on's Carackter was a baddiſh Sort of Thing anuff; but Beggary, and a Jayl into the Bargain, was the Fooliſhneſs of a Lunatick; and ſo as a Word was anuff to the Wiſe, I chuſe the above Skeem, of laying before the Publick the ſaid Letters upon Pollitiks & other myſterius Matters, which I repate, I SAY I REPATE IT, that I pas no more of, than an unborn Babe. But howſever, if any Gentelmen coud RELIGIUSLY, FAIRLY, & ONNESTLY ans' any of them, eſpecially that which burns with Fire and Revenge againſt the Author or Authors of the Catalogue, I moſt devoutly and fervently pray it may BE DONE, as he or thay may be branded in the Forehead, and wander up and down like Cain.

Yours the much injured,

TO BE SOLD,

A Commodious Plantation, on Elk-Ridge, within Twenty-two Miles of Annapolis, Eighteen of Baltimore-Town, and Ten of Elk-Ridge Landing, well adapted to Grain and Grass. A View of the Premises will sufficiently evince the Beauty of the Situation and Fertility of the Soil.

A Merchant Mill on Hunting-Creek, in good Repair, with Two Water Wheels, One carries a Pair of French Burs, double geered, hoisting and bolting Materials in good Order, with several other Buildings at said Mill. As I purpose leaving the Province next Spring, I would dispose of a Sea Sloop, that will carry about 3000 Bushels of Grain, well calculated for the West-India Trade, sails well, about Two Years old, and sheathed. As the Situation at the Mill is very convenient for a Store, having Water Carriage to the Mill Tail, and a much frequented publick Road leading by it, in a good Wheat and Corn Country, any Person inclining to farm the Mill, that would keep a Store of wet and dry Goods, I think would find his Advantage in purchasing one or other of said Vessels, for which any reasonable Time would be given for Payment, on paying Interest and giving Security, if required.

N. B. Land Carriage to Delaware Landings does not exceed 36 Miles from the Mill, and Water Carriage about 80 Miles to Baltimore-Town.

POETS CORNER.

To the very worthy and respectable Inhabitants of Annapolis, the humble Petition of their OLD CHURCH Sheweth,

THAT, Late in Century the laſt,
By private Bounty, here were plac'd
My ſacred Walls; and tho', in Truth,
Their Stile and Manner be uncouth;
Yet, whilſt no Structure met mine Eye,
That even with myſelf could vie,
A goodly Edifice I ſeem'd,
And Pride of all Saint-Anne's was deem'd.
How chang'd the Times! for now, all round,
Unnumber'd ſtately Piles abound,
All better built, and looking down
On Me quite antiquated grown.
Left unrepair'd, to Time a Prey,
I feel my Vitals faſt decay:
And often have I heard it ſaid,
That ſome good People are afraid,
Leſt I ſhould tumble on their Head.
Of which, indeed, this ſeems a Proof—
They ſeldom come beneath my Roof.
The Stadt-Houſe, that, for publick Good,
With me co-eval long had ſtood;
With me full many a Storm had dar'd,
Is now at length to be repair'd:
Or, rather, to be built anew,
An Honour to the Land and you.
Whilſt I, alone, not worth your Care,
Am left your ſad Neglect to bear.
With Grief, in yonder Field, hard by,
A Siſter-ruin I eſpy;
Old Bladen's Palace, once ſo fam'd,
And now too well, The Folly nam'd.
Her Roof all tott'ring to Decay,
Her Walls a mould'ring all away;
She ſays, or ſeems to ſay, to me,
"Such too, ere long, thy Fate ſhall be."
Tho' now for ever gone and loſt,
I bluſh to ſay, how little Coſt
The handſome Pile wou'd have preſerv'd,
Till ſome new Præfect had deſerv'd
A Manſion here, from us, to have
As good as Carolina gave.
But Party, Faction (Fiends that ſtill
Have been the Foes of publick Weal)
The Dogs of War againſt her ſlipp'd,
And all her riſing Honours nipp'd.
Of Sunſhine oft a caſual Ray
Breaks in upon a cloudy Day
O'erwhelm'd with Woe; methinks, I ſee
A Ray of Hope thus dart on me.
Cloſe at my Door, on my own Land,
Plac'd there, it ſeems, by your Command,
I've ſeen, I own, with ſome Surpriſe,
A novel Structure ſudden riſe.
There let the Stranger ſtay, for me,
If Virtue's Friend, indeed, ſhe be.
I would not, if I could, reſtrain,
A moral Stage; yet, would I fain
Of your Indulgence and Eſteem,
At leaſt, an equal Portion claim.
And, Decency, without my Prayers,
Will ſurely whiſper in your Ears,
"To Pleaſure, if ſuch Care you ſhew,
"A Mite to Duty, pray beſtow."
Say, does my Rival boaſt the Art
One ſolid Comfort to impart,
Or heal, like me, the broken Heart?
Does ſhe, like me, pour forth the Strain
Of Peace on Earth, Good will to Men?
Merit ſhe has; but, let me ſay,
The higheſt Merit of a Play,
Tho' Shakeſpeare wrote it, but to name
With mine, were want of Senſe or Shame.
Why ſhou'd I point to diſtant Times,
To kindred and congenial Climes,
Where, Spite of many a Hoſt of Foes,
To GOD a mighty Temple roſe?
Why point to ev'ry Land beſide
Whoſe honeſt Aim it is, a Pride,
However poor it be, yet ſtill
At leaſt, to make GOD's Houſe genteel?
Here, in Annapolis alone,
GOD has the meaneſt Houſe in Town.
The Premiſes conſidered, I
With humble Confidence rely,
That, Phenix-like, I ſoon ſhall riſe,
From my own Aſhes to the Skies;
Your Mite, at leaſt, that you will pay,
And your Petitioner ſhall pray, &c.
